SUMMARY OF SERMONS.

* THE HUMAN SOUL.—According to the philosophy of Jesus Christ the human soul is invaluable.—Rev. George Adams, Methodist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

AN EVENT OF LIFE.—Some one has well said, "Death is not the end, but only an event of life."—Bishop Doane, Episcipalian, Albany, N. Y.

IRRESISTIBLE FORCE.—It is irresisti-ble force that pushes us along the line of destiny while we ignorantly make our own temporary fate.—Mrs. Geatefeld, Christian Scientist, Chicago, III.

AS AN IMMORTAL,-It is a little thing in comparison to believe in immortality. The great thing is to live as an immortal.—Rev. Edward E. Hale, Unitarian, Boston, RELIGIOUS DISCOVERIES -All teligious discoveries are based on the ver-dict of man's conscience and on the ver-dict of man's heart —Rev. Dr. Calthrop.

INSTRUMENTS OF POWER-When God has a monopoly of us, when we have so given ourselves up to Him that He has absolute control of us, then we become instruments of power.—Rev. John F. Carson, Presbyterian, Bruoklyn, N. Y.

INDIVIDUAL LIFE.-The mind and body are separate and distinct factors in individual life, but sithough their relations are intimate, the mind dominates the body.-T. B. Wilson, Theosophite, Kansas City, Mo.

THE REAL WORK OF LIFE .- The real work of life, lament as we will, complain as we may, must be done, not upon the mountain, but in the valleys.—Rev. mountain, but in the valleys.-Rev. George L. Perrin, Universalist, Boston, SPIRITUAL LIFE.-That spiritual life whose expansion is to continue forever, c. mes to the hour of death as the helr reaches his majority, or the scholar his day of graduation—Rev. H. M. Booth, Presbyterian, Auburn, N. Y.

GOD'S DESIGN -God has designed us for bester things than this world can give its hinors and distinctions are temporal and fade away.—Rev. Benjamin F. Fritz, United Brethren, Columbus, Ohio.

THE EARLY CHRISTIANS -- The intenes love of the early Christians stood out in contrast with the schilshness of the world like the verdure of paradise sur-rainated by a desert.—Rov. J. H. O. Smith, Christian church, Chicago, Ill.

THE SAVIOR'S TRUTH -- We believe and indeed, we know, that God has given us our feeling of the infinite that we may individually work our our destiny by the Savior's truth and love.—Rev. Mr. Webber, Universalist, Rumford Falls, Vt.

SYNONYMOUS TERMS -- In our every-SINONYMOUS TERMS.—In our every-day life trust, confidence and faith are practically synonymous terms. Trust, or confidence, is absolutely necessary to the welfare and stability of human society and human government.—Rev. T. Jefferson Danner, Episcopalian, Pittaburg, Pa.

THE PROGRESS OF TRUTH. - Humantry has cause for the diags, that the social and political conditions which now exist offer little, if any, real obstruction to the progress of truth. This is especially true of our own land—Rev. George W. Stone, Unitarian, Kansas Clay, Mo. W. Stone, Unitarian, Kansas City, Mo.

LIMITS OF LIBERTY -- What are the limits of liberty in the Profesiant Epis-copal church? These limits are the limits of the great Catholic creeds. These creeds erced. These creeds taerspied shurch universal up to the age Refermation, still accepted by the largest portion of Protestantisms, and these alone, limit our liberty of thinking. Rev. Dr. Heber Newton, Epine pallan, New York

CRUTE'ISM OF THE CHURCH.- Nothing is more evident from the New Testa-ment that persons who claim to be led by the spirit are called to submit the claims to the church for examination and critithe Holy Ghost to the ministry are pu under a three years' training. It is not enough that the candidate himself is peravaded of his call. The church must be convinced.—Ir. Benjamin F. De Costa, Episcopalian, New York City.

THEOLOGICAL REACTION. The persecution of Dr Briggs is not an indication of theological reaction, but of ignorant recalcitrance and the stupid ambition of individual leaders. Not one among all his persecutors dares question his henesity or integrity. What is worse, not one of them dares come forth and challenge wis conclusions.—Bev. Henry Frank, Inde-pendent, New York City.

INTELLECTUAL PARALYSIS .- Intellectual paralysis is no attribute of the church of the living God, but intel-

DEATH IN BIBLICAL LITERATURE-What is death in Biblical literature? It is a harvest, the fruits of life being gathered in. It is the siznal knell of eventide calling homeward the flock from the pasture field. It is being united with one's fathers. These figures of speech are scattered all over the pagen of the Bible. Here you find the flowers of immortality blooming in aplendor and everlasting treshness.—Rev. M. Jastrow, Hebrew, Philadelphia. Pa.

have done it. At only one mill was there down by reason of the law mentioned, they heard any compignt as to lack of cars, and this was not so much as to a shortage of cars as inability to secure just the kind of cars needed. There has been no appreciable devicase in the number of orders being received, and when asked as to the outlook for business every manufacturer approached relacked that things were never brighter than at present. List prices are being maintained without difficulty, and there is hardly a doubt that there will be another advance before the fall season sets in. In this connection it would seem that the wiscent more the dealer could make right now would be to place his orders while prices are not to present the fall is not prices are not the present stage and while he can give the units into to fill his orders.
